We will all be affected by bereavement at some stage in our lives and as the grief journey will affect individuals in different ways it can help to share those feelings with people willing to provide a listening ear. It does not have to be a recent bereavement, you may have lost someone some time ago but feel that you might benefit from some support now. This is not a counselling or therapy service but a space to get support from others. If you don't want to chat you are welcome to come along for the tea, coffee and cake. For more info contact Bridie 0794673528 or Joan 07857648997.
